The International Association of Exhibitions and events (IAEE) selected Christine Fletcher, CEM and owner of Encore! Event Management as one of the 30 individuals to participate in the 2007 Future Leader program at Palm Beach Gardens in Florida.

The purpose of the Future Leader program is to identify, train and then support the future leaders of the exposition industry. Each year an elite group of 30 individuals are invited to participate in this intimate learning experience which sharpens the interpersonal skills that are necessary to become effective strategists, team contributors, group facilitators, innovators, learners, coaches, and much more.

This highly interactive curriculum integrates theory and practice to ensure that future leader participants leave capable of both thinking better and doing better.

Jim Kelley, Director of ICAT Expo states, “Christine is to be congratulated on her acceptance into the IAEE Future Leaders program. Leadership is a privilege that is a direct result of hard work and lifelong learning. Christine’s commitment to this program is a true measure of her past success and an indication of her additional future success.”
